READ THE STORY

The Brave King and His Loyal Knight

Once upon a time, in a far-off kingdom, there was a wise and brave king named Leo. He ruled his kingdom with fairness and kindness, and his subjects loved and respected him deeply.

One day, a terrible dragon attacked the kingdom, and the people were terrified. The dragon was breathing fire and causing destruction everywhere it went.

The king knew he had to do something to stop the dragon and protect his people. He called upon his bravest knight, Sir George, and together they set out to defeat the dragon.

The journey was long and treacherous, but they didn't give up. They faced many challenges along the way, but they persevered with courage and determination.

Finally, after many battles, they arrived at the dragon's lair. The dragon was fierce and intimidating, but King Leo and Sir George were not afraid. They fought valiantly and, after a long and grueling battle, they defeated the dragon.

The kingdom was saved, and the people rejoiced. King Leo and Sir George were hailed as heroes, and they were celebrated throughout the land.

From that day on, the kingdom was safe and peaceful, and King Leo continued to rule with fairness and kindness, always putting his people first.
