THINGS YOU CAN AND CAN'T BRING ON THE SUBWAY

Don't travel with more than you can carry on your own, and avoid rush hour if you're transporting something big. Make space of other riders and don't block doors, stairs or passageways. This is not a comprehensive list what you are and are not allowed to bring on the subway. Find all details in our Rules of Conduct.

You can bring

Personal mobility devices. Wheelchairs, canes, walkers, scooters and the like are allowed at all times.

Dogs and other animals. They must be in a bag or other container and carried in a way that doesn't annoy other riders. Service animals and working animals with law enforcement agencies are allowed at all times.

Bikes. Avoid rush hour.

Strollers. Strollers are allowed as long as you're using them to transport children.

Boxes, packages, and small furniture. Don't transport large items during rush hour.

You can't bring

Motorcycles and other motorized vehicles.

Personal mobility devices like motorized scooters are allowed, however.

Large wheeled carts. Cart that are larger than 30 inches in length or width are not allowed.

Anything that is so long it sticks out of a subway window or door.

Items that could be a hazard, interfere with MTA operations or block traffic. Your safety is our biggest priority.

1. Carts larger than _____ inches are not allowed.
2. Can you bring walkers on the subway? YES / NO
3. When are service animals allowed on the subway? They are allowed _____.
