Verbs BE/BREAK

She is always ___ new job opportunities because she wants to grow in her career.

I am totally ___ the idea of allowing pets in the office.

Their car ___ on the way to the wedding, leaving them stranded.

The thieves managed to ___ through the locked gate and enter the house.

She is ___ the weather today and cannot attend the meeting.

The teacher is ___ for the students, ensuring they don't miss any details.

Let's ___ the meeting here and finish up next week.

News of the scandal ___ late last night, shocking everyone.

We are all ___ a treat when we see the movie's ending.

I don't think they're ___ each other anymore—they've grown apart.

After years of arguments, they decided to ___ and end the relationship.

The children were excited when school finally ___ for summer vacation.

I will be ___ all weekend if you'd like to visit.

The prisoner tried to ___ from his cell but was caught.

He has been ___ from school for two weeks due to illness.

When I heard the bad news, I felt like I was going to ___ in tears.

Their favorite TV show is finally ___ after years of waiting!

LIVEWORKSHEETS