

Itay and His Love for Computer Games

Itay is an eight-year-old boy who loves computer games. Every day, after school, he goes to his room and turns on his computer. He chooses a game and starts playing. His favorite game is about climbing mountains and catching animals. In the game, he needs to count how many animals he catches to win.

Itay's friends also love computer games. They talk about them in the classroom during breaks. One day, his teacher says, "Let's have a celebration in the classroom next week. You can bring something you like to share with everyone." Itay thinks for a second and decides to bring a game to play with his friends.

On Saturday, Itay goes to the store with his father. He looks for a fun game that does not cost too much money. Finally, he finds a cheap game about a magic club where players solve puzzles. It is clear that his friends will love it!

During the celebration, Itay shows his new game to the class. Everyone is excited. They take turns playing, and Itay helps them understand the rules. His friends have lots of fun, and the teacher smiles.

Itay is happy because he shares his favorite hobby with others. Now, he has even more friends who love computer games like him!
