What should you do for a cold?

1 England

What should you do when you have a cold? My mum usually makes me a cup of hot tea. But some parents have different ideas. I asked my e-pals from different countries what they have to do when they don't feel well.

3 Japan

Aiko doesn't have a hot drink for a cold, but her dad makes her hot soup. It's actually hot green onion soup. Aiko says you should have three bowls of this soup every day when you have a cold. She says it's good for a blocked nose too.

2 Poland

My friend Marek has to drink hot milk when he has a cold or a sore throat. His mum puts the milk with some butter in the microwave oven. When it's hot, she adds an egg (not cooked!) and some honey. I don't think it's tasty, but he says it works.

4 Canada

My friend Charlie thinks socks are a good idea for a cold. He says you have to use old socks when you are ill! First, you have to put your feet in hot water, so they are warm. Then you put the socks in water, so they are wet. Next you put on the wet socks and wear some dry socks on top of them. Then go to bed!

Parts of the body

Your <sup>1</sup>brain is a very important part of your body. You use it to think and it sends messages to all the other parts of your body. It tells your <sup>2</sup>_____ to work, so the red <sup>3</sup>_____ can go around your body. You also have lots of strong white <sup>4</sup>_____ inside your body, so you can stand up. The <sup>5</sup>_____ hold them together and they make them move, so you can run and walk.
