The Amazing Journey of Maya

When she finally arrived in Paris, she felt as if she had been there before. She had already seen many pictures and read countless books about the city. She visited famous landmarks like the Eiffel Tower and the Louvre, but the most memorable experience was when she met a local artist at a café. He shared his knowledge of the city's history and gave her tips on the best hidden spots in Paris. By the time Maya returned home, she had traveled to five different countries.
