SUMMER CAMP IN EDINBURGH

by Emma Lee, age 12

I've just come back from a summer camp I did in Scotland and I'd like to tell you about it. It was my very first holiday without my family so I was a little worried at first. My mother drove me to the airport early in the morning and by quarter to seven I was on the plane by myself.

The flight lasted one hour and a half. During the journey, I made friends with another girl, Ida, who was going to the same summer camp. She was from Denmark but her English was quite good. When we arrived, we found a young lady waiting for us just outside the airport.

The summer camp only lasted twelve days, but I did so many things that it seemed much longer. In the morning we could do different activities: I really enjoy art so I chose a drawing course and improved my cartoon drawing skills. We also did sports I often do, like horse riding, table tennis and football. Ida also asked me to join the guitar course so now I can play a few songs.

When I came back a few days ago I was glad to see my family again, but I was also a little sad because I was going to miss my new friends from the summer camp. Anyway, Ida and I text each other every day and she promised she will visit me next month.
