James works for about four hours before taking a short break. During his break, he often winds down by listening to music or catching up on his favorite TV shows. After lunch, he spends the afternoon completing his work tasks and answering emails. He always makes sure to log off from work by 6:00 p.m.

In the evening, James enjoys cooking dinner. He loves trying out new recipes, especially when they involve pasta or seafood. Once a week, he eats out with friends at a nearby restaurant. On weekends, James likes to go hiking or work out at the gym. He hates sitting at home all day unless he's feeling unwell.
