Read the phrases and put in the appropriate prepositions.

- I saw your fire ceremony ____ my bedroom window and I wanted to get in on it.
- Oh, Babe, I was cleansing myself ____ an ugly corporate chapter of my life. But I don't want to talk ____ me. I want to talk ____ you. I want to hear all about your travels.
- Same old, same old. The Great Wall, the Berlin Wall, the Wailing Wall. The whole world is just a bunch ____ walls.

of (*2)
from about

- Where is she? I want to give her a squeeze.
- Upstairs sleeping. She's going ____ a lot of rough stuff right now. She reconnected this guy that she'd been in love ____ for years and it didn't work ____.

- I got great instincts.
- You have terrible instincts.
- That's what you're known ____.

with (*2)
through for out

- We're gonna start Frankie Bergstein' three-step emotional healing system.
- No.
- Step one: talk ____ it.You need to purge. It's essential ____ closure.
- No.
- And I've got watermelon. It's everyone's favorite low-calorie food. Basically celery in a Lilly Pulitzer dress.
- Can we move ____ to step two so I can say no ____ that?
- Step two: art therapy.
- No.

for
to
on
about

- You worked ____ the Hubble telescope?
- I worked ____ a team that worked for a team that worked ____ the Hubble telescope.
- He's being modest. He has a letter ____ the president.
- No way.
- Once I was held back ____ riding an elevator because the first lady was riding ____ it.

on (*3)
from (*2)
in

- A bon voyage party ____ you?
- Pour moi. [starts to speak French]
- I don't know French.
- Well, if you want a tarot card reading from Jean-Pierre, I suggest you learn.
- Are you really going ____ again?
- You just got ____.

for
back away

