11. The company is milking the new product for all it's worth, constantly releasing upgraded versions.
12. The dim lighting and soft music created an intimate ambience perfect for a romantic dinner.
13. His strong suit has always been his ability to communicate clearly and persuade others.
14. Many modern jobs have become increasingly sedentary, contributing to a rise in lifestyle diseases.
15. It's easy to overlook the small details, but they often make the biggest difference in the outcome.
16. The up-and-coming artist is starting to gain attention in international art circles.
17. I decided to steer clear of the party, knowing it would be filled with people I couldn't stand.
18. The song evoked memories of childhood summers spent by the beach.
19. She decided to follow in her father's footsteps and became a lawyer.
20. It's clear she takes after her mother, with the same fiery spirit and determination.
21. The endless delays were the last straw, and I decided to cancel the project.
22. The tech startup is still in its infancy, with a lot of room to grow.
23. His silence during the meeting spoke volumes about his dissatisfaction with the proposed changes.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

24. The CEO is the one who calls the shots, but he often takes input from his senior team.
25. Even though the opposition was fierce, she stood her ground and defended her position.
26. The debate was so heated that I couldn't get a word in edgewise.
27. I can vouch for his honesty—he's always been trustworthy.
28. Don't take his words at face value; you should dig deeper to understand his true intentions.
29. The frustration from the office environment began to spill over into personal relationships.
30. After the storm, the streets were littered with debris from fallen trees and broken glass.
31. The documents were scattered across the desk, making it difficult to find the one I needed.
32. After she helped me with my project, I made sure to reciprocate by assisting her with hers.
33. Their financial situation is hanging by a thread, and they're hoping for a last-minute investment.
34. The company faced a significant backlash after releasing their controversial advertising campaign.
35. We can't afford to become complacent; the competition is always evolving.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

36. Given how busy she's been, I think we should cut her some slack on the missed deadline.
37. His constant late arrivals didn't sit well with the team, who valued punctuality.
38. The students memorized the facts through rote learning, without understanding the underlying principles.
39. The actor decided to renounce his previous controversial statements and apologized publicly.
40. She denounced the unethical practices of the company, which led to a significant public outcry.
41. The sought after position was filled by a highly experienced candidate.
42. Once you get the hang of operating the software, it becomes much easier to use.
43. The constant pressure at work started to take a toll on her health.
44. The manager scrutinized the report to ensure there were no errors before it was presented to the board.
45. The recent economic downturn really puts our previous challenges into perspective.
46. The unsung heroes of the war are often those who were not on the front lines but worked tirelessly behind the scenes.
47. Since we're already here, we might as well check out the museum before we leave.
48. Unfortunately, he was on the receiving end of the team's criticism after the failed project.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

49. His hesitation was indicative of his uncertainty about the proposal.
50. After further reflection, he decided to backpedal on his earlier statement regarding the new policy.
51. She was put on the spot during the meeting when they asked her for a solution to the problem.
52. The museum displayed an exquisite collection of rare paintings from the Renaissance period.
53. The schedule isn't set in stone yet, so there's still time to make changes.
54. I have yet to make a final decision about the job offer.
55. The company's expansion came at the expense of employee welfare and work-life balance.
56. The recruiter seemed to cherry pick the most qualified candidates, leaving the rest without consideration.
57. The project has come full circle, and we're finally able to launch it after all the hard work.
58. I got a bit carried away with my shopping and ended up buying things I didn't need.
59. The company is downsizing to make room for a more innovative, streamlined workforce.
60. His snarky comments during the presentation took away from the importance of the message.
61. I stumbled upon an old diary while cleaning out the attic, full of stories from my childhood.
62. On the face of it, the proposal seemed reasonable, but a deeper analysis revealed serious flaws.
63. In the negotiation, she had the upper hand due to her extensive market knowledge.
64. As soon as the announcement was made, all hell broke loose in the office with everyone scrambling to adjust.
65. In the face of mounting pressure, the company had to resort to drastic measures to cut costs.
66. The event was in the full swing by the time we arrived, with music playing and people dancing.
67. Before signing the contract, he conducted due diligence to ensure the company's financial health.
68. With her experience, she can run circles around her colleagues in any task.
69. The viral video quickly took on a life of its own, spreading across social media like wildfire.
70. During the meeting, he went off on a tangent about unrelated personal matters, wasting valuable time.
71. Losing that job turned out to be a blessing in disguise; it pushed me to start my own business.
72. The effects of the financial crisis reverberated across the global economy for years.
73. They capitalized on the growing demand for sustainable products by launching an eco-[illegible]dly [illegible]

LIVEWORKSHEETS

74. The new regulations came into play at the start of the year, forcing companies to adjust their strategies.
75. As he matured, he began to outgrow his childhood hobbies and sought more challenging pursuits.
76. The adolescent years are often marked by confusion and a desire to assert one's identity.
77. Her expertise in the field is second to none, making her a highly sought-after consultant.
78. While his competitors surged ahead, he trailed behind in the race for innovation.
79. The new model was deemed inferior to its predecessor, which had better features.
80. He was complicit in the illegal activities, although he tried to distance himself from the scandal.
81. In the grand scheme of things, this minor setback won't affect our long-term goals.
82. I was not in the slightest worried about the outcome, knowing we were fully prepared.
83. I'll put in a good word for you if you're applying for the job; I know the hiring manager personally.
84. His constant interruptions exasperated everyone in the meeting, making it hard to focus.
85. Her tenure as CEO was marked by significant growth and numerous successful acquisitions.
86. The team will undertake a thorough review of all processes to identify potential improvements.
87. His opinions often ran counter to the general consensus, which made him a polarizing figure.
88. She is given to bouts of creativity, often coming up with brilliant ideas late at night.
89. He didn't want to discuss the matter while anyone was within earshot, fearing it might be overheard.
90. The teacher had to yank the student off his phone to get his attention during class.
91. It's easy to get ahead of oneself when planning a project, but it's important to take things step by step.
92. The company was teetering on the brink of bankruptcy until they secured a crucial investment.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

1. The constant exposure to high levels of stress can be detrimental to one's mental and physical health.
2. Over time, she grew accustomed to working long hours, even when the demands became overwhelming.
3. He was taken aback by the unexpected news that his company would be downsizing.
4. As soon as the job opening was announced, candidates scrambled for a chance to apply.
5. In an effort to save his own job, the manager didn't hesitate to throw his subordinate under the bus.
6. So much for the idea of an early retirement; the financial crash wiped out our savings.
7. Despite hours of searching, they called for help, but to no avail—they couldn't find the missing keys.
8. Their relationship was a constant tit for tat, with both trying to one-up each other at every turn.
9. The rushed decision to cut costs only served to exacerbate the company's financial troubles.
10. His parsimonious nature meant he would never splurge on anything, even if it were necessary.

LIVEWORKSHEETS