

1. What is a newspaper?

a paper that is printed and distributed usually daily or weekly and that contains news, articles of opinion, features, and advertising.

2. What are the sections of a newspaper?

national/international news; local news; sports; entertainment/amusements; classified advertisements; and neighborhood news

3. What is a headline?

The title above a story in a newspaper.

4. What is the simple present?

It is used for habitual actions or general facts

5. What is the present perfect?

It is used to indicate a link between the present and the past.

6. Clasifique las oraciones

Josh writes articles for The New York Times.

My best friend practices kitesurfing.

Federer is one of the greatest tennis players of all time.

He doesn't speak any foreign language.

What are the best places to visit in the US?

Terry has moved in with his girlfriend.

Mr. Hamilton has become a very successful doctor.

I have seen that kid before, but I don't remember his name.

Tessa has already made friends in the new town.

7. Read the conversation and answer the questions

Mark: Do we have today's broadsheet?

Anna: Yes. I've already read it. Do you want to check out the economic issues?

Mark: Well, I'm always interested in the currency exchange rates.

Anna: There's a remarkable change. This week the dollar has fallen and the euro has risen.

Mark: Oh! That's astonishing!

- a. Does Mark want to check out the economic issues?
Yes
No
- b. Have Anna read the news?
Yes
No