

I Will Study at Junior High School Next Year

Next year, I will study at junior high school, and I feel very excited about it. I will wake up early every morning to get ready for school. In the first week, I will meet my new teachers and classmates. During the day, I will join different classes, like science, math, and English. I will also have fun learning new things that I didn't study in elementary school. After school, I will stay for a while to join the sports club because I want to make new friends and stay active.

On weekends, I will spend some time doing my homework. I will also prepare for tests because I want to do well in my studies. Every afternoon, I will help my younger sibling with their homework, just like my older brother helped me before. At the end of the year, I will take my final exams and do my best. I hope I will enjoy my time in junior high school, and I will learn a lot of useful things for the future!
