Negative Behavior Consequences Sorting Activity

Instructions: Cut out the consequences below and sort them into the correct category: Natural Consequences or Given Consequences. Glue or tape them in the correct column on a separate sheet of paper.

Natural Consequences: These happen on their own as a result of an action.

Given Consequences: These are assigned by an authority figure like a teacher, parent, or principal.

Consequences to Sort:

You forget your homework and get a zero.	You talk back to a teacher and receive detention.
You leave your bike outside in the rain, and it rusts.	You don't study for a test and fail it.
You push a classmate and get sent to the principal's office.	You spend all your lunch money on snacks and have nothing left for lunch.
You run in the hallway and get a warning from a teacher.	You don't wear a coat on a cold day and feel freezing.
You keep interrupting class and lose participation points.	You don't clean up your mess at home, and your parents take away your gaming time.
You stay up too late and feel tired the next day.	You use your phone during class and it gets taken away.
