Alex: Hey Mia, have you noticed how bad the _____ is lately? I saw so much _____ in the city.

Mia: Yeah, it's really concerning! It's mostly because of all the _____ from cars and factories.

Alex: Exactly! And don't forget about _____. I see so much trash on the streets and in parks.

Mia: I know! It's sad to think that some of it ends up in the ocean, harming sea life. We really need to do something about _____.

Alex: Right! What if we start a clean-up group at school? We could pick up trash and educate others about these issues.

Mia: That's a great idea! We could also talk about things like _____, which are a huge problem for our oceans.

Alex: Yes! Young people can make a difference by spreading awareness and taking action.
