Anna's First Volleyball Match

Anna loved volleyball. She had practiced for weeks and was excited for her first real match. The game was at the school gym on Sunday. Her team wore blue shirts, and the other team wore red. Anna felt a little nervous but also happy.

Fill in the gaps with one, two, or three words:

1. Anna had practiced for _____.
2. The volleyball game was at the _____ gym.

The game started, and the ball flew high. Anna ran to hit it but missed. She felt sad, but her team cheered for her. "You can do it, Anna!" her friend said. The next time the ball came, she jumped and hit it over the net. The ball landed on the other side, and everyone clapped!

Fill in the gaps with one, two, or three words:

3. Anna felt _____ when she missed the ball.
4. Her _____ cheered for her.
5. Anna jumped and hit the ball _____.

At the end of the game, both teams shook hands. Anna's team won, but the best part was playing together. She smiled, knowing she would play again next Sunday. Volleyball, just like her friends, made her happy.

Fill in the gaps with one, two, or three words:

6. At the end of the game, both teams _____ hands.
7. Anna's team won, but the best part was _____ together.
