The Internet can help us with city living. In 2050, roads <sup>3</sup> _____ (tell) us when they are busy. Driverless cars <sup>4</sup> _____ (know) the best way to travel. And drones <sup>5</sup> _____ (show) us a space to park our cars. So, our roads <sup>6</sup> _____ (have) more cars, but they <sup>7</sup> _____ (have) traffic jams.

In 2050, cities <sup>8</sup> _____ (use) much energy, but they <sup>9</sup> _____ (be) safe. The lights in our cities <sup>10</sup> _____ (only come) on when a person walks along the street. When there is a problem in a street, cameras <sup>11</sup> _____ (send) videos to the police. Big wastepaper bins <sup>12</sup> _____ (collect) rubbish and send it for recycling.

So, in the future, our cities <sup>13</sup> _____ (be) bad places to live. They <sup>14</sup> _____ (be) clean, green and stress-free!
