Record Breaker

In February 2005, Ellen MacArthur made history when she arrived back in Britain after sailing round the world. She completed her journey of nearly 40,000 kilometres in 71 days 14 hours 18 minutes and 33 seconds. When she returned to Britain, Helen was a hero! She was exhausted, but very happy.

Ellen didn't grow up near the sea. She was born in a town in central England in 1977. When she was eight years old, her aunt took her sailing at the seaside. She has been in love with boats since then. Ellen wasn't from a rich family, so she saved up her school dinner money for three years and in 1990 she bought her first boat.

When she was eighteen, she sailed around the UK, and she was named British Yachtsman of the Year. In 1999 she won the Route du Rhum race across the Atlantic Ocean. She slept, on average, 4.2 hours every night and was exhausted when she finished the race. Ellen first became famous when she took part in a round-the-world race in 2001 and came second. She took part in the same race two years later, but an accident on the boat
