I love exploring Bangkok, Thailand. When I'm there, I usually ride a motorcycle around the city. But you can also just take a taxi. To save money, I take a train. There are many stations and you get a great view of the city. Or sail down the river by boat. You can visit many famous tourist sites this way. Finally, ride / take a tuk tuk (a three-wheeled open vehicle). They're a fun, cheap way to travel in the evening, when it's cool.
