Helping Mum

Norah was looking at the remainder of her salary sadly. After deducting payments for electricity, water, phone and marketing bills, she hardly had enough to buy school uniforms (0) from her two children, Hisham and Liza. School would start in a fortnight's time and being the (1) soul bread-winner of her family, she had no other means to get money. Her husband had (2) pass away in an accident five years ago.

She gathered her two kids and told (3) they about their dismal financial situation. Liza suddenly had an idea. She said that she and Hisham could (4) helping their neighbours to do some household chores and get some money in return.

The next morning, Hisham and Liza went around their neighbourhood and (5) offer to do any household chores for a fee. For two weeks, the children babysat, ironed clothes, washed cars, watered the plants and ran many (6) errand for their neighbours. The neighbours paid the two kids generously.

At the end of the two weeks, Hisham and Liza had earned (7) most than RM300. They gave the cash to their mother. Norah was very thankful to their neighbours. She was also very proud (8) off Hisham and Liza and told them that they could buy many things for their new school year.
