Introduction 1. _____ 2. _____	On one hand, it has shrunk the world, fostering instant and effortless communication across borders. It is not absolutely necessary to travel abroad to contact people in other countries and know about their culture.
Body paragraph 1 1. _____ 2. _____	It is well known that, in some regions, people do not have internet connectivity because of economic or geographical issues and, therefore, they cannot access online education or communicate with others easily, which generates inequality. Therefore, promoting digital literacy and ensuring equal access to technology are crucial steps in bridging the digital divide and empowering everyone. Only then can technology truly fulfil its potential to benefit all of humanity.
Body Paragraph 2 1. _____ 2. _____	However, global technology also presents significant drawbacks. In addition to cyber security threats and the addiction to technology, the digital divide, where individuals lack access to the internet and devices, creates a disadvantage for those left behind, hindering their participation in the globalized world.
Conclusion 1. _____ 2. _____	One important aspect that has come as a result and also as a facilitator of modern globalisation has been technology. In conclusion, while technology has transformed the way we do things and has brought most people around the world much closer, there are still many people who have been relegated from the global community because of lack of access to the internet. Social media platforms, video calls, and online communities have created a sense of global citizenship and understanding by providing almost instant access to a wide variety of resources and information that can help us expand our understanding of the world. Certainly, global technology has profoundly changed how we live, offering both remarkable benefits and significant challenges.
