You voted for him, didn't you?

W zdaniach przeczących pytania rozłączne mają formę twierdzącą:
She hasn't taken any painkillers, has she?
He knew nothing about the new policy, did he?

W zdaniach rozkazujących pytania rozłączne tworzone są za pomocą will / can: Come here, will you?
Don't worry about it, will you?
Please bring the documents from the conference room, can you?

W sugestiach zaczynających się od Let's używamy shall / will:
Let's invite some young people to the conference, shall we?

Uwaga!
W zdaniach z I am, question tags tworzymy za pomocą are:
I'm the one to deal with the problem, aren't I?

Indirect questions (pytania pośrednie) to pytania zaczynające się od wprowadzenia typu: Do you know ...?, Could you tell me ...?, I'd like to know ... lub I don't know ...

Szyk zdania pytającego w pytaniu pośrednim jest taki sam, jak w zdaniu twierdzącym.
I don't know how old he is. NIE ~~I don't know how old is he.~~
Could you tell me where she lives? NIE ~~Could you tell me where does she live?~~

Grammar challenge!

W zdaniach, w których podmiotem jest zaimek nieokreślony somebody / everybody / nobody / someone / everyone / no-one, question tags tworzymy za pomocą zaimka they oraz liczby mnogiej czasownika:
Someone has called the police, haven't they?

W zdaniach, w których użyto przysłówka lub określnika o negatywnym znaczeniu, np. never czy hardly ever, używamy pytań rozłącznych w formie twierdzącej:
He signed neither of the letters, did he?

W bardzo uprzejmych prośbach używamy would:
Please leave the documents on my desk, would you?

By wyrazić zainteresowanie, zdziwienie lub gniew, używamy tzw. same-way question tags. Oznacza to, że forma pytania rozłącznego pozostaje taka sama jak zdania głównego:
So you're standing for the school elections, are you?
