V. Read the passage and circle the correct answer.

Last summer, Lucy, a 10-year-old girl, had an unforgettable adventure. She spent her vacation at her grandparents' house in the countryside. Every morning, she woke up early and helped her grandfather feed the chickens and collect eggs. Lucy enjoyed this new routine because she loved being around animals.

One sunny day, her grandfather suggested they go fishing at the nearby lake. Lucy was very excited. They packed their fishing gear and a picnic lunch and walked to the lake. Lucy's grandfather taught her how to use a fishing rod, and after a few tries, she caught her first fish! She was so proud and couldn't wait to tell her parents about it.

In the afternoons, Lucy and her grandmother often baked pies using fresh fruits. Lucy's favorite was the apple pie, and she loved kneading the dough and decorating it with patterns. She learned many tips from her grandmother, who was an excellent baker.

One evening, a big storm arrived unexpectedly. The wind howled, and the rain poured heavily. Lucy and her grandparents lit candles because the electricity went out. They sat together in the living room, telling stories and playing board games until the storm passed.

When the summer ended, Lucy returned home with a lot of wonderful memories. She often thought about the peaceful countryside and the special times she shared with her grandparents.
