Nguyễn Võ Huỳnh Như UTLT - SA2212 - GR2 - SAT (4-6).

Unit 1: Family Life

The Importance of Family Life

Family life plays a crucial role in shaping who we are. It is within the family that we learn our first lessons about love, respect, and responsibility. A strong family provides support, guidance, and a sense of belonging.

In most families, parents work hard to provide for their children, ensuring they have food, shelter, and education. They teach their children values such as honesty, kindness, and hard work. Siblings, on the other hand, grow up together, sharing experiences, playing, and sometimes arguing. These interactions help children develop important social skills and emotional bonds that last a lifetime.

Family traditions also bring people closer. Whether it's celebrating birthdays, enjoying meals together, or going on vacations, these shared moments create lasting memories. Simple activities like watching a movie together or helping with household chores strengthen relationships.

However, family life is not always perfect. Misunderstandings, conflicts, and challenges can arise. Different opinions and personalities can sometimes lead to disagreements. But open communication, patience, and respect can help resolve problems. When family members support one another, they build a strong foundation of trust and love.

In today's busy world, technology and work can sometimes take attention away from family time. It is important to set aside time to talk, share experiences, and enjoy moments together. A strong family provides emotional security and helps individuals face life's challenges with confidence.

In the end, family life is about love, support, and togetherness. No matter the size or structure of a family, what truly matters is the bond between its members. A loving and supportive family can make life more meaningful and fulfilling.

Task 1: Match the words with definition

Security	A. The ability to share thoughts, feelings, and ideas with others
Communication	B. The connection between people, especially in families or friendships
Relationships	C. A group of people, usually related by blood or marriage, who care for each other
Family	D. Something that gives comfort and protection from harm
Fulfilling	E. The feeling of being satisfied and happy in life

LIVEWORKSHEETS

Task 2: Decide if the statements are true or false

1.Misunderstandings and conflicts never happen in family life.
True / False
2.Families can resolve conflicts through open communication, patience, and respect.
True / False
3.Spending time with family is not important in today's busy world.
True / False
4.Love, support, and togetherness are key to a strong family.
True / False
5.A meaningful and fulfilling life depends on having a loving and supportive family bond.
True / False

Task 3: Choose the best answer for these question

1.What is the main role of family life?
a) To teach only discipline
b) To shape who we are and teach love, respect, and responsibility
c) To provide financial support only
d) To make rules and punishments

2. What do parents provide for their children?
a) Only food and shelter
b) Money and luxury items
c) Food, shelter, education, and important values
d) Entertainment and vacations

3. How do siblings help each other grow?
a) By ignoring each other's needs
b) By sharing experiences and learning social skills
c) By always competing against each other
d) By spending time alone

4. Why are family traditions important?
a) They bring family members closer and create lasting memories
b) They are just old customs with no real meaning
c) They only matter on holidays
d) They help families become richer

5. Give an example of a simple activity that strengthens family bonds.
a) Watching a movie together
b) Ignoring each other at home
c) Spending all day on the phone
d) Arguing over small issues

LIVEWORKSHEETS