Brandon's New Beginning

Brandon is 15 years old. He lives with his mother Kelly, his younger brother Ian, and his grandfather Leonard. Brandon often argues with Kelly because he feels that she does not understand him. Ian and Leonard try to help, but Brandon feels alone.

One morning, Brandon wakes up early. Kelly is cooking breakfast in the kitchen. "Good morning, Brandon," she says. Brandon answers with a quiet "Hi." He sits at the table and starts eating his toast. Ian appears and sits next to him.

"Mom, can I go to the park with Ian today?" Brandon asks.
Kelly looks at him and says, "Yes, but you need to finish your homework first."

Brandon sighs. He feels that nothing ever changes. But today, something different happens. Leonard walks in with a big smile. "Brandon, come with me," he says.

Brandon follows his grandfather to the garage. Leonard shows him a dusty old box. "This box belonged to your father," Leonard explains. Brandon opens the box and discovers an old notebook and some photos.

Brandon begins to read the notebook. He learns that his father faced many problems when he was young. His father wrote about how he accepted challenges and worked hard to achieve his goals.

"I never knew this," Brandon says.

Leonard smiles. "Your father believed in himself. You can do the same." Brandon feels a new strength inside him. He decides to change his attitude. He finishes his homework and calls Ian to go to the park. They climb the big hill and sit under a tree.

"I think I'm ready to try harder," Brandon tells Ian. "I want to believe in myself."

Ian smiles. "I believe in you too, Brandon."

That night, Brandon talks to Kelly. "Mom, I'm sorry for arguing with you. I want to do better."

Kelly hugs him. "I believe in you, Brandon."

Brandon smiles. He knows that with his family's support, he can achieve anything.
