

In many countries, the roles of men and women doing household chores are changing.

Take Josep as an example. He lives in Spain. Now his wife works, so Josep

do all the cleaning, mopping, sweeping, washing, and ironing clothes as well as dusting. However, now Josep

He <sup>5</sup>clean _____ the sink, stove, and <sup>6</sup>wash _____ the dishes. Josep doesn't <sup>7</sup>clean _____ the floors.

When Maria has free time, she <sup>8</sup>vacuum _____ and mops the floors as well as <sup>9</sup>make _____ the beds. She <sup>10</sup>fix _____ things around the house too.
