

A) Check the following questions using “why”, then select each equivalent with “how come” as in the example.

1. Why didn't she say anything about it?
  - a. how come didn't she say anything about it?
  - b. how come she didn't say anything about it?
  - c. how come she didn't said anything about it?
2. Why didn't you come to school yesterday?
  - a. how come didn't you come to school yesterday?
  - b. how come you didn't come to school yesterday?
  - c. how come you didn't came to school yesterday?
3. Why did his brother do that?
  - a. how come did his brother did that?
  - b. how come did his brother do that?
  - c. how come his brother did that?
4. Why won't you join a workshop?
  - a. how come you won't join a workshop?
  - b. how come you didn't join a workshop?
  - c. how come won't you join a workshop?
5. Why is Regina sick?
  - a. how come is Regina sick?
  - b. how come Regina is sick?
  - c. how come Regina was sick?
6. Why have we had three quizzes so far?
  - a. how come we have three quizzes so far?
  - b. how come have we had three quizzes so far?
  - c. how come we have had three quizzes so far?

B) Change the following questions using “why” to “how come” as in the example.

1. Why is your mom mad at me? → How come your mom is mad at me!?
2. Why are you joining that ugly math contest? → _____
3. Why would you fail the test? → _____
4. Why won't we have a class tomorrow? → _____
5. Why did Yessenia use chat gpt for her essay? → _____
6. Why will Bryan get that job? → _____