

SPORTS AND CULTURE

A. DRAG AND DROP

It is said that [yellow box] is everything around us. It is the way we speak, we dress, even the way we think about certain topics. The word culture comes from the [yellow box] "cultura", which means to tend to, to cultivate. It was first understood as growing through [yellow box], but in the middle of 19th century, it was related to collective customs and inherited traditions and patterns of meanings in societies. All cultures are different, and even in a single [yellow box] many subcultures can be identified.

[yellow box] are a universal element found in all cultures. They provide young people with experiences, fun, good physical health, as well as opportunities for social interaction and skills necessary for participation in [yellow box] Young athletes are also agents of change in their communities; they can educate others and inspire young [yellow box]. When people are engaged in sports, identities and goals are shared. Bonds are cultivated across racial, ethnic, and class lines. Sports help

[yellow box] rights progress.

Latin

country

human culture

Sports

society

athletes

Education

B.- SELECT THE BEST ALTERNATIVE

speak

think

come

provide

UNIDAD EDUCATIVA "MARIANO BENITEZ TORRES"

provide
---------	--

educate
---------	--

change
--------	--

engage
--------	--

help
------	--

dress
-------	--

mean
------	--