My little brother Eddie is a true (1) who could read and write when he was only three years old. As I (2) from memories of his childhood, he was a (3) reader who always had a book open. People who didn't know the truth (4) that everything came easily for him. But he just set such high (5) for himself that he worked harder than everyone else. He became (6) and upset if he made one mistake on a test. If he made two mistakes, he'd feel great (7), guilt, and embarrassment. But even though Eddie is a really smart kid, he's always humble and never (8). It's just another reason why I'm so proud of my little brother.
