

Vocabulary training

Food and Eating

Match each question to its correct answer from the options provided.

1. What made you become a vegetarian? _____
2. Is a loaf of bread enough for the family breakfast? _____
3. Are you a fussy eater? _____
4. When did you last gulp down your drink instead of sipping it? _____
5. Did he manage to resist the temptation to eat that whole bar of chocolate? _____
6. Who footed the bill last night? _____
7. Why did you choose a crash diet? _____
8. Where can I find a chopping board? _____
9. Have you ever cried over spilt milk? _____
10. What's in that bowl of soup? _____
11. Who's the real smart cookie in your family? _____
12. How often do you overeat at family dinners? _____
13. How much rice do I need for three people? _____
14. Did Pete bring a bottle of water with him to the hike? _____
15. Do you think Alex will spill the beans before the big announcement? _____

- a) Honestly? Almost every time!
- b) Maybe once or twice. But I usually try to move on.
- c) I did. It was my treat.
- d) No, he ate the entire thing in one sitting.
- e) Carrots, lentils, and a bit of ginger—it's a detox recipe.
- f) No, and he regretted it once we started climbing.
- g) It's usually next to the knives and cutlery drawer.
- h) No, not with three teenagers at the table.
- i) My little brother—he's ten and already edits videos like a pro.
- j) I hope not, but he's really bad at keeping secrets.
- k) I wanted quick results before the summer holidays.
- l) This morning! I was late, so I gulped my coffee in two seconds.
- m) I started learning about animal rights and never looked back.
- n) A little. I don't like mushrooms, olives, or anything too spicy.
- o) About half a packet should be enough.