

Passage 5: A Weekend Getaway

Last weekend, Sarah and her husband, Mark, decided to take a break from their busy schedules and go on a weekend getaway. They chose a cozy cabin in the mountains, about two hours away from the city. On Saturday morning, they went hiking on a scenic trail and enjoyed the fresh mountain air. In the afternoon, they visited a local winery and tasted some of the region's best wines. That evening, they cooked a simple dinner together and relaxed by the fireplace. On Sunday, they explored a nearby town, visited a farmers' market, and bought some handmade crafts. It was a perfect escape from their daily routine.
