Local Community Comes Together to Clean Up Beaches

Port Dickson, Saturday – Nearly a hundred volunteers came together to clean up the local beaches as an initiative to combat beach pollution issues. Volunteers of all ages and backgrounds began working together to pick up litter, plastic waste and discarded items around the beach before sending them all to recycling trucks. One of the volunteers, Jevanathan, expressed his motive for participating in the activity, saying, "It is our responsibility to keep the beaches clean because it is a valuable resource. Seeing so many people come out to work together today gives me hope for a cleaner, healthier environment."

- 4 The objective of the campaign was
- A to provide recycling waste management for the public.
B to overcome the problems of beach pollution.
C to promote community engagement.

Are you going to Azie's open house tomorrow, Keong? I can't wait to catch up with our schoolmates.

I haven't made up my mind yet. I've been a bit under the weather these few days.

That's bad to hear. Have you seen a doctor? Have you informed Azie that you might not be there tomorrow? I can tell her for you so that you can have a good rest. You should stay at home, Keong.

No, I haven't, but maybe I'm going to do both if I have the energy tomorrow. Anyway, thanks, Venood.

- 5 From the conversation, Venood is
- A convincing Keong to attend the open house.
 - B concerned about Keong's current condition.
 - C going to the clinic and inform Azie about his condition.
