Expressing opinions

1. Divide expressions into three following categories

EXPRESSING AGREEMENT	EXPRESSING OPINIONS	EXPRESSING DISAGREEMENT

- I couldn't agree more.
- I am under the impression ...
- I think otherwise.
- To my mind, ...
- That's not always true.
- From my point of view, ...
- I see what you mean.
- I would say that ...
- Not necessarily.
- That's not always the case.
- I take a different view.
- Personally speaking, ...
- Fair enough.
- No doubt about that.
- That's a really good point.

2. Put the phrases in the correct order to make up the dialogue.

1 Have you seen "Green Sunrise"? I have mostly seen positive reviews on this movie.

I would say that the characters are definitely interesting, but occasionally they act illogically.

Not necessarily, since the designs are the easiest part. How to include so many characters in a book is a different issue.

I saw it yesterday. But I am under the impression that the fans have been waiting for this movie for so long, they will be glad to see even the most average movie adaptation.

Personally speaking, we all act illogically sometimes. Is that a big issue?

That's a really good point. Because sometimes I can't concentrate on the movie because it has so many different storylines. Does "Green Sunrise" have the same issue?

I take a different view. I must see the movie first to see how logical the characters are.

I see what you mean, but it usually takes a lot of time to adapt a book into a movie. Besides, it's difficult to make all the designs that are in the book.

Fair enough, but that's concerning if the character becomes a villain over 5 minutes without any specific motive.

3. Put the phrases in the correct order to make up the dialogue.

- I was scrolling through social media yesterday and found myself completely lost in the short videos. I would [ ] it's a type of addiction.
- I couldn't [ ] more. I keep wondering how we became so hooked on social media. I check the news and my friends' socials because I am afraid to miss something. The time without the Internet was better.
- That's not always [ ]. Personally [ ], social media made our lives more convenient, but I miss the times when it was usual to talk to your friends face to face.
- No [ ] about that, the times were simpler back then.
- But to my [ ], we still have a choice to spend more offline, outside, and close to nature.

true
agree speaking mind say doubt

LIVEWORKSHEETS