Vocabulary training
Art and Culture

Decide if the sentence makes sense or not. Choose the correct option: "Makes sense" or "Makes no sense."

1. She is such a bookworm that she prefers to watch TV all day.

2. This bestseller has sold over ten million tickets in cinemas.

3. The soundtrack of that film is so iconic, people listen to it daily.

4. We watched a beautiful landscape being sculpted out of wood.

5. I've never heard a more mesmerizing symphony in my life.

6. She was glued to the screen during the entire musical.

7. The museum had a whole section for sitcoms from the 1300s.

8. That sequel was even better than the first film.

9. My favourite composer is currently writing a new graphic novel.

10. We spent hours looking at murals painted on the city walls.

11. I think a good easel can improve the sound quality of your concert.

12. They were booing because the singer arrived two hours late.

13. That painting of the lake was so realistic, I thought it was a photo.

14. We visited an art gallery to watch a romcom on the big screen.

15. The publisher delayed the book release due to printing issues.

16. The movie had great lyrics, but the camera work was terrible.

17. We saw the first edition of that novel at the museum.

18. A psychological thriller often includes mystery and mind games.

19. This volume includes all the author's early short stories.

20. That autobiography was written by an anonymous fan.