Why Should Wearing a Helmet when Motorcycling?

We often hear lots of stories from road regarding people taking spill on motorcycle when they are riding without using helmet. Mostly the riders badly end up in mess. Wearing a fitted protective helmet offers many benefits which reduces the negative aspect of ridding. First and the most important is that wearing the correct helmet can save a rider's life, physical ability, family pain, and money. The recommended designs of motorcycle helmets can provide total protection. They not only protect riders from getting a worse road injured accident but also from flying bugs, such as rain, sleet, mud and other potential projectiles. Second, wearing a helmet can gives the riders a matter of style. Helmet can give the opportunity for rider to express the image they may want to project when riding on they way. This benefit may not be important to some people, but others, it means a lot and important. By choosing the most appropriate helmet from all of the various styles, such as beanie, shorty, German, and many others, wearing a helmet which can projecting an image is an inherent crucial part of motorcycling and help riders feel more confident when riding on the road. However, what most important is wearing helmet when riding is a matter of using it properly. Bikers should use the helmets on which are fixed to their head. It is really not good if they places simply the helmets on the head without settling them properly. The bikers should fasten the helmet correctly to their head in order to get safe and comfort.

Gardenia plants are popular for the strong sweet scent of their flowers. Gardenia is the national flower in Pakistan. In Japan and China, the flower is called Kuchinashi (Japanese) and Zhi zi (Chinese).

Gardenia plants are evergreen shrubs. Their small trees can grow to 1-5 meters tall. The leaves are 5-50 centimeters long and 3-25 centimeters broad, dark green and glossy with a leathery texture. The flowers are in small groups, white, or pale yellow, with 5-12 lobes (petals) from 5-12 centimeters diameter. They usually bloom in mid-spring to mid-summer. Many species have strong aroma.

To cultivate gardenia as a house plant is not easy. This species can be difficult to grow because it originated in warm humid tropical areas. It demands high humidity and bright (not direct) light to thrive. It flourishes acidic soil with good drainage and thrives on 20°-23°C during the day and 15°-16°C in the evening. Potting soils developed specifically for gardenias are available. It grows no larger than 18 inches in height and width when grown indoor. Should People Shop in Online Shop?

Nowadays, the activity of online shopping has risen steadily around the world. It has become a new lifestyle for people in modern city since 21St century. Even though there are still many people who prefer buying their daily needs in a market to shopping online, shopping online for certain people has more advantages than its drawbacks.

There are strong arguments in favour of online shopping. For some people, particularly working people, they argue that the existence of online shop is very utilitarian in their life. That is because they do not have to go to a market which they may spend much time. Moreover, online shop has offered many types of goods that customer can buy, so they have many preferences to select the best ones.

Furthermore, nowadays, there have been many online shops which put some buyer testimonies on their websites. If customers feel worried about the quality of goods, they can see and read some testimonies concerning the quality of those goods. Therefore, with the presence of testimony, consumers can easily determine whether the quality of goods is decent or not.

In conclusion, online shopping has advantages and merits for many people. Thus, people can utilize online shopping as new lifestyle due to its benefits.

Text for No. 16 to 18

There are a lot of discussions as to whether children should be given homework or not. Some people claim that children to enough work in school already. They also argue that children have hobbies that they want to do after school, such as sports or music. A further point they make is that a lot of homework is pointless and doesn't help the child learn at all.

However, there are also strong arguments against this point of view. Parents and teachers argue that it is important to find out whether children can work on their own without the support from the teacher. They say that the evening is a good time for children to sit down and think about what they have learned in school.

Furthermore they claim that the school day is too short to get anything done that needs doing and it makes sense to send home tasks like independent reading or further writing tasks that don't need teacher's support.

On balance, I think that some homework is a good idea but that it should only given at the weekend when children have more time.

16. How do we compare the second and the fourth paragraph
- a. Both paragraphs argue that homework is necessary for students
 - b. Unlike the fourth paragraph, the second paragraph argues that homework is unnecessary
 - c. The second paragraph supports that students need homework, but the fourth paragraph does'nt

- d. The second paragraph and the fourth paragraph argue that students do not need homework
 - e. The second and the fourth paragraphs do not say anything about the benefit of homework
17. The purpose of the text above is...
- a. to inform how important the homework
 - b. to discuss whether children should be given homework or not
 - c. to describe the suitable homework for student
 - d. to persuade the reader that homework is not good for student
 - e. to argue that children have hobbies that they want to do after school
18. They say that the evening is a good time for children to sit down and think about what they have learned in school.” (paragraph 3)
The underlined word refers to...
- a. Students
 - b. Teachers
 - c. Parents and teachers who agree with the homework
 - d. Parents and teachers who disagree with the homework
 - e. School and government

THE MOUSE, THE FROG, AND THE HAWK

A mouse who always lived on the land, by an unlucky chance, formed an intimate acquaintance with a frog who lived for the most part in the water.

One day, the frog was intent on mischief. He tied the foot of the mouse tightly to his own. Thus joined together, the frog led the mouse to the meadow where they usually searched for the food. Then, he gradually led him towards the pond in which he lived. Reaching the banks of the water, he suddenly jumped in and dragged the mouse with him.

The frog enjoyed the water amazingly, and swam croaking shout, as if he had done a good deed. The unhappy mouse was soon spluttered and drowned in the water. His poor dead body floated about on the surface.

A hawk observed the floating mouse from the sky, and dove down to the water. He grabbed it with his talons and carried it back to his nest. The frog, being still fastened to the leg of the Mouse, was also carried off a prisoner, and was eaten by the hawk.

This following text is for questions 23 to 25

Lately, concerns have arisen that Jakarta, the capital city of Indonesia, and its immediate surroundings are threatened to experience a clean water crisis by 2025. Clean water, which is produced by two private operators – PAM Lyonnaise Jaya (Palyja) and Aetra Air Jakarta – currently totals 18.7 m³ per second. However, by 2025, demand for clean water will reach 41.3 m³/second as the population of Jakarta is estimated to grow to 14.6 million people from 9.6 million currently (the unofficial figure is possibly much higher).

It has been reported that city-owned property developer Jakarta Propertindo (Jakpro) and city-owned developer Pembangunan Jaya will acquire a combined 100 percent stake in Palyja. If the Jakarta administration has a direct stake in the city water operators, it will increase public supervision on the local clean water industry.

PAM Lyonnaise Jaya, which manages the clean water supply in the west side of Jakarta, is a private water operator that is partly controlled by Astra International through its subsidiary Astratel Nusantara. Palyja has been active in Jakarta for about 16 years. However, last year a law suit was filed demanding that the court will annul the agreement between city water operator PAM Jaya and Palyja and Aetra Air Jakarta (Aetra) claiming that public access to affordable clean water has been hindered.

Based on information from the World Bank, Indonesia plans to achieve universal clean water access by 2019 but almost half of the population still do not have access to clean water at present.

23. What is the text about? It's about
- the growth of water supply
 - PAM Lyonnaise Jaya
 - clean water industry
 - city water operators
 - clean water crisis
24. What is predicted to happen in 2025?
- Public access to affordable clean water will be hundred.
 - Indonesia to achieve universal clean water access.
 - There will be more water supply operators.
 - The demand for clean water will decrease.
 - Jakarta will experience water crisis.
25. Paragraph one discusses ...
- the demand for clean water.
 - clean water crisis in Jakarta in 2025.
 - the rapid growth of Jakarta population.
 - the production of clean water in Jakarta.
 - two private operators producing clean water.

Once upon a time there lived as neighbours, a bear and a rabbit. The rabbit was a good short, and the bear, being very clumsy, could not use the arrow to good advantage. The bear would call over the rabbit and asked the rabbit to take his bow and arrows and came with the bear to the other side of the hill. The rabbit, fearing to arouse the bear's anger by refusing, consented and went with the bear and shot enough buffalo to satisfy the hungry family. Indeed, he shot and killed so many that there was lots of meat left after the bear and his family had loaded themselves, and packed all they could carry home. The bear was very gluttonous and did not want the rabbit to get any of the meat, so the poor rabbit could not even taste the blood from the butchering, as the bear would throw earth on the blood and dry it up. Poor rabbit would have to go home hungry after his hard day's work.

The bear was the father of five children. The youngest child was very kind to the rabbit. The mother bear, knowing that her youngest child was very hearty eater, always gave him an extra large piece of meat, but the youngest child didn't eat. He would take it outside with him and pretend to play ball with it, kicking it toward the rabbit's house, and when he got close to the door he would give the meat with such a great kick, that it would fly into the rabbit's house and in this way the poor rabbit would get his meal unknown to the papa bear.
