A Day Without Logging Out

Last Saturday, Mark decided not to log out of any of his apps all day. He wanted to see how much time he really spent on social media. The results surprised him.

In the morning, Mark checked his phone before getting out of bed. He had a streak with his cousin — 45 days in a row! He quickly sent a picture to keep it going. Then, he opened his DMs to reply to his friends. Some people had sent funny memes, and he laughed while he scrolled through them.

Mark also checked his subscriptions on a video app. He follows two travel bloggers and three gaming channels. After watching some videos, he voted in a poll about the best travel destination for 2025. He chose "Japan."

Later, Mark posted a selfie at the park and added, "Nice weather today!" A few minutes later, he saw that his friend had tagged him in an old photo from last summer. It brought back good memories of their beach holiday. He started thinking about this year's trip and opened a travel app to search for ideas.

By the evening, Mark felt tired of his phone. "I've been online all day," he thought. Finally, he put it down and said, "Tomorrow, I will log out."

Task 2. Read each sentence and choose the correct word from the box to complete it. Write the correct word on the line.

1. Mark was _____ through funny memes in the morning.
2. He posted a _____ with the caption "Nice weather today!"
3. His friend _____ him in an old beach photo.

Writing

Writing

Topic 1: Social Media Write about your favourite social media app. Write 50–70 words.

Use "I like," "I use," "It has," and "I can."

You can write about:

The name of the app

Why you like it

What you do on it

How often you use it

Example:

I like Instagram. I use it every day. I post selfies and watch funny videos. I also talk to my friends in DMs. It's fun and easy to use.

Topic 2: Science & Technology

You can write about:

Your phone, computer, or tablet

What you use it for (school, games, videos, etc.)

Why it is important to you

Example:

I use my phone every day. I watch videos, play games, and call my family. I also use my computer for school. Technology helps me learn and have fun.
