1. Read the Story

Martina went to the supermarket on Saturday. She bought a big chocolate cake, a bottle of yogurt, and a sandwich. The cake was the most expensive item, and the sandwich was cheaper than the yogurt. She paid $20 for everything. The cashier gave her $5 in change.

After that, Martina visited the zoo. She saw the tallest giraffe and the smallest monkey. The giraffe was taller than the elephant! Martina thought the monkey was funnier than the lion. She took many photos and spoke with the guide about the animals. It was the best day of her weekend.
