

UNIVERSITAS BINA INSANI

Jl. Siliwangi No.6, Sepanjang Jaya, Bekasi 17114

Telp. 021- 824 36 886/996 – 824 00 924

TES FORMATIFSemester Gasal Tahun Akademik 2023/2024

Mata kuliah : Bahasa Inggris II
Program Studi : Fakultas Bisnis
Waktu : 150 menit
Nama Lengkap :
Kelas :

Capaian Pembelajaran Matakuliah:

1. Mahasiswa dapat menggunakan ketrampilan berbahasa Inggris tingkat pre-intermediate baik secara lisan maupun tulisan dengan meliputi Grammar dan Vocabulary yang membahas tentang bisnis yang meliputi: 1.Present Perfect / Past Simple) 2. Present Perfect with so far, yet, and already
2. Adjective with -ing or ed ending
3. Present Perfect with today, this week, this month and this year (adverb of time)
4. Simple Present Passive and Simple Past Passive

KERJAKAN DENGAN TELITII. GRAMMAR*A. SIMPLE PAST VS PRESENT PERFECT*Past simple or present perfect? Fill in the gaps with the correct tense of the verb.

Example:

1. They _____ very good progress so far (make)
They have made very good progress so far
2. She _____ to see her client last week (go)
She went to see her client last week

1. Our managing director _____ some projects like this before. (handle)
2. We _____ great progress last month. (make)
3. My sister _____ her career in 1997. (start)
4. Some employees _____ resignation letters, but this is the most massive. (write)
5. The children _____ many pictures this month. (draw)
6. We _____ well last night. (sleep)
7. Our company _____ a relationship with nearly 40 different companies. (build)
8. My father _____ some bills this week (pay)
9. The shares _____ up to the highest point yesterday (rise)

10. The students _____ in the lake last month. (swim)

B PRESENT PERFECT

Make sentences. Use the present perfect.

Example:

1. They/know/each other for two years.
They have known each other for two years
2. You/ever/ meet/a famous person?
Have you met ever a famous person?
3. She/not/take/her salary this month
She has not taken her salary this month

1. They/send/many products previously.

2. The HR manager/make/an important decision.

3. The pilot/fly/a helicopter before?

4. Your father/ever/ride /on an elephant?

5. My parent/eat/breakfast/before they go to work.

6. I/not/use/this system before.

7. She/ever/do a job/in a different country?

8. My friend/not/find/the missing book.

9. The package/not/arrive/at my office.

10. The students/ever/meet/a famous person?

C PRESENT PERFECT WITH ALREADY, YET, SO FAR.

Fill in the gaps with already, yet or so far.

1. They haven't talked about this matter _____?
2. We have to contact our customers, and we've only contact three_____
3. The work has gone well _____, but we haven't done the hardest job_____
4. A Have you booked your flight _____?
B No, I'm going to book it this afternoon.
5. A Can you call me our clients?
B I've _____ done it sooner after I finished my job.
6. Has he hired three accountants _____
7. She has _____ written an email to Daniela.
8. He has found one administration staff _____.
9. I didn't plan to finish all the work today, but I've _____done everything.

D. ADJECTIVE WITH ED AND -ING

Change the sentence into the sentence with ed and ing adjective

Example:

The extreme sport frightens them

The extreme sport is frightening (ing)

They are frightened (ed)

1. The horror movie frightens him
_____ (ing)
_____ (ed)
2. The service satisfies the customers
_____ (ing)
_____ (ed)
3. The projects frustrate them
_____ (ing)
_____ (ed)
4. The trip exhausts the travelers
_____ (ing)
_____ (ed)
5. The ride amuses the visitors
_____ (ing)

_____ (ed)

E. SIMPLE PRESENT AND SIMPLE PAST PASSIVE

Change the sentences from the active to the passive.

Example:

1. She bakes a cake every Sunday.

A cake _____ by her every Sunday

The answer: is baked

2. The thieves stole his car.

His car _____ by the thieves

The answer: was stolen

1. The employees sent their emails to the manager.

Their emails _____ by the employees to the managers

2. The singer sang a song beautifully

A song _____ by the singer beautifully

3. My sister buys the gifts for her friends.

The gifts _____ by my sister for her friends

4. Everybody sees the lions in the safari park.

The lions _____ by everybody in the safari park

5. An old woman feeds the pigeon in the garden.

The pigeon. _____ by an old woman in the garden

II. VOCABULARY

Fill in the blanks with the words from the box.

inflation	Masters	relaxing	lay-off	schedule	boring	hard
promoted	index	recruitment	joined	raise	incredible	dubbed
mortgage	unemployment	tired	bankrupt	shares	fell

1. The party turned out to be a bit _____, with no entertainment.
2. Due to mounting debts, the family was declared _____.
3. The _____ dialogue didn't sync well with the actors' lip movements.
4. The price of oil _____ sharply yesterday.
5. She has a _____ time understanding complex math problems.
6. The view from the mountaintop was absolutely _____.

7. It is more difficult to manipulate a broad market _____ than the price of a single stock.
8. Central banks often raise interest rates to combat _____
9. My brother _____ manufacturing company 5 years ago
10. The manager decided to _____ some workers to reduce costs.
11. Herman received _____ degree in Chemistry
12. The government _____ renewable energy source last week.
13. The government plans to _____ taxes next year.
14. The _____ process involves screening resumes and conducting interviews.
15. The soft, comfortable pillows made the hotel room very _____.
16. She wanted to buy _____ of a blue-chip company
17. The movie is not on the _____ anymore
18. I always feel _____ after a long day at work.
19. The economic recession resulted in a significant increase in _____
20. The bank approved his _____ application.

III READING COMPREHENSION

Read the text carefully and there is statement based on the text, write t if the statement true, write f if the statement is false!

THE HARD ROAD TO HAPPINESS

Over the last 20 years, American multi-millionaire Steve Fossett has become one of the world's most famous adventurers. His list of achievements is amazing: he has flown around the world in a hot air balloon, been on round-the-world sailing trips, swum across the Channel from England to France, driven a sports car in the Le Mans 24 Hours, run a marathon, done ski and triathlons, driven a dogsled across Alaska... the list goes on. As a result of his adventures, he's broken records, and won a number of worlds several awards.

Clearly, Fossett has had some incredible 'experiences, and at 61, should be ready for a relaxing retirement. But he's not tired of adventure yet, and probably never will be. That's because he knows the key to happiness - something money can't buy.

According to psychologists, past success isn't enough. Even if their most fantastic dreams come true, most people are only happy for a short time, then they quickly return to 'sad normality.

They then need another challenge, preferably more interesting, more fun or more frightening than the last one. In other words, if you've been on scary adventures before, you need to be scared again. And again. Steve Fossett has certainly made his life tough and dangerous. But it's much less terrible than the alternative: getting bored to death.

1. Steve Fossett has done six adventures.
2. He still wants to do more although he is old

3. He knows that everyone needs money for their happiness
4. Psychologists thinks that people are not satisfied with their success
5. In the end, Steve Fossett doesn't want risk his life.

*Good luck****