B: Okay. Let's get the tickets.

A. How about something romantic? Romeo and Juliet?

B. I want something more entertaining. Like Charlie and the Chocolate Factory. I heard its very funny, and they may even throw some chocolates at you!

A: Are you joking? That play is for kids! What do you think of Wicked instead?

B: I saw it last month, and I didn't enjoy that performance. It was very scary.

A: Well, my cousin recommended me to watch Frozen. It's a musical.

B: Sounds nice. What should we watch?

A: Hey! Would you like to go to the theatre with me?

B: I've seen the film.

A: Watching it on screen and live is not the same, trust me.
