When I was in elementary school, I always looked forward to the school's annual sports day. My mother would wake me up early and help me put on my sports uniform. I remember how excited I was every year.

In the opening ceremony, I saw the teachers and students gathering on the field. Some students carried colorful flags, while others held balloons. The principal gave a short speech, and then we all sang the national anthem together.

After that, the competitions began. I joined the sack race with my friends. We hopped as fast as we could, trying not to fall. Everyone was laughing and cheering. Some of my friends joined the tug-of-war. They pulled the rope with all their strength, and the crowd shouted encouragement.

At the end of the day, the winners received medals and certificates. Although I didn't win any prizes, I felt happy because I had so much fun with my friends. I always hoped that sports day would come again soon. Now, I am excited because next month, my school will hold another sports day, and I can't wait to join the games again.
