Hello Granny and Grandpa,
I am having a great time in India. I like Indian food and I have learned a lot about Indian culture. But I am not in the capital city Delhi. We are travelling in the south of the country. Luckily, in early summer there are long dry periods with temperatures above 18 °C.
I am going to share my exciting experience of my visit to an Indian farm with you. Recently, my sister, I and our family friends, have been to an organic farm. I know that you like gardening and I believe it will be interesting for you to learn about this place. This place is called "Urban gardening". It is very far from Chennai, about 100 km. Chennai is the capital city of Tamil Nadu, the southernmost Indian state. We went to the farm by bus. It took us a long time to get there. While we were travelling, the tour guide told us about organic farming.
I was excited to see the farm and the different kinds of plants. We were welcomed by the owner of the farm and he took us round his farm. This organic farm was divided into sections. He showed us different seeds and told us that each plant was planted in a section. He taught us how to pick lady fingers. They are small green pods from a tropical plant. We also tasted the lady finger raw but I didn't like it. And then, we went to the corn field. My friend, my sister and I ran around and played together with the farmer's son in the corn field. The farmer gave us some corn which we cooked in the hotel. Then we saw flat beans. After that we saw peanuts (a nut that grows underground in a thin shell). I liked raw peanuts. Finally, we went to the watermelon patch and pulled out a huge watermelon. We all ate the tasty watermelon. Yummy!
After seeing all these plants, we got on the comfortable bus and came back to the hotel. I was not tired at all. I enjoyed my trip to the farm and if I get a chance to visit the farm again, I won't miss it. This farm is a great place!
Back next weekend. See you soon.
Best wishes,
James
