1. Match the columns.

1. Tell me about an important fact that took place in the 1980s.

2. When was the last time you went to the movies?

3. Did your sister use to have short hair?

4. What was life like in the 1960s?

5. Your father grew up in the 1960s, didn't he?

6. As a teacher, what do you think students are like today?

○ No, she used to have long straight hair.

○ I think kids are smarter and students are more prepared to get a job.

○ In 1981 IBM introduced the first personal computer.

○ Yes, he was born in 1960 and has good memories about his childhood.

○ Our kids are small, so I can't remember the last time I went to the movies.

○ It was calmer and families used to spend a lot of time together.

2. Unscramble the conversation.

○ Really? I heard the towers were taller than the other buildings around them.

○ Your cousin, David. It's awesome, isn't it?

○ New York City. It's the 9/11 Memorial.

○ Yes, it's the place where the tragedy of 9/11 took place.

○ Is this where the World Trade Center used to be?

○ That's how Americans refer to the terrorist attack that took place on September 11, 2001. That was when you were born, wasn't it?

○ Who sent you this photo, Uncle Diego?

○ It sure is! Where is it?

○ Yeah, I was born in December, 2001. Wow! It looks beautiful.

○ Oh, yes. They were taller. There's a museum too. Take a look at…

○ Why 9/11?

○ I think the memorial is more beautiful than the World Trade Center was.
