Select the right pronoun.

The researchers developed a rigorous spatial analysis _____determined the types of use suitable for every area within the city limits.

When the researchers examined the shopping center location, _____ analyzed the views, the access, and the public transport connections.

_____analysis also studied the distance to the closest residential area, _____was located less than a mile away.

LIVEWORKSHEETS