

A Special Day - Know Your Family

Amina has just graduated from university, and her whole family is there to celebrate with her. She wears a black graduation gown and smiles proudly in the middle of the group. Her younger sisters stand beside her, one holding a bouquet of red roses as a gift. Behind her are her smiling parents, and in front sits her loving grandmother wearing a flower-patterned scarf. Everyone is happy and proud of Amina's hard work. The photo shows how a family can support each other with love, care, and encouragement, especially during special moments like this.
