Chapter 9: The Gifts of Wali Dad

Fill in the blanks

1. Wali Dad earned _____ paise every day by cutting and selling grass.
2. Wali Dad saved his money in a _____ pot under his bed.
3. Wali Dad exchanged all his coins for a beautiful gold _____.
4. The merchant said the noblest lady was the queen of _____.
5. In return for the bracelet, the queen sent back _____ loaded with fine silks.
6. Wali Dad sent the silks to the king of _____.
7. The king sent _____ magnificent horses as a return gift.
8. The _____ transformed Wali Dad's hut into a splendid palace.
9. The queen and king fell in love and got married in Wali Dad's _____.
10. In the end, Wall Dad chose to return to his simple life as a _____.

Mutlitple choice questions

1. Why did Wali Dad exchange his saved coins for a gold bracelet?

a) He wanted to wear it himself to look wealthy in the marketplace.
b) He needed to bribe the merchant to take him on trading journeys.
c) He desired nothing for himself and wished to gift it to someone noble.
d) He planned to sell it later at a higher price to buy more grass-cutting tools.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

2. How did the merchant react when Wali Dad first asked him to deliver the bracelet?

a) He laughed mockingly and refused to help a poor grass-cutter.
b) He was astonished but agreed to fulfill the unusual request.
c) He demanded half the bracelet as payment for his services.
d) He reported Wali Dad to the king for suspicious behavior.

3. Why did the queen send silks in return for the bracelet?

a) She believed it was customary to reciprocate gifts of equal value.
b) She wanted to test if Wali Dad was truly generous or seeking favors.
c) She mistook Wali Dad for a wealthy nobleman trying to impress her.
d) Her prime minister advised her to discourage further contact.

4. What was Wali Dad's motivation for sending gifts to the king and queen alternately?

a) He wanted to provoke a rivalry between the two monarchs.
b) He felt overwhelmed by their lavish gifts and kept passing them on.
c) He hoped to eventually receive a gift valuable enough to retire.
d) He was secretly in love with both the king and queen.

5. How did the king and queen interpret Wali Dad's escalating gifts?

a) As a clever scheme to borrow money from their treasuries.
b) As peace offerings from a neighboring kingdom.
c) As attempts to seek employment in their courts.
d) As a challenge to prove their own wealth and generosity.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

6. Why did Wali Dad flee when he learned the king and queen were visiting?

a) He feared they would punish him for deceiving them about his wealth.
b) He didn't want them to see his humble hut after sending grand gifts.
c) He had stolen the original bracelet and worried about being caught.
d) He was angry at the merchant for revealing his location.

7. What transformation did the fairies bring about for Wali Dad?

a) They turned his grass-cutting sickle into a golden scepter.
b) They granted him eternal youth to enjoy his wealth.
c) They made his hut a palace and gave him royal attire.
d) They transported him to the queen's palace as a nobleman.

8. What was the fairies' reason for helping Wali Dad?

a) They admired his selflessness and contentment.
b) They pitied him for being mocked by the merchant.
c) The king had secretly hired them to test Wali Dad's honesty.
d) They wanted to expose the greed of the king and queen.

9. What unexpected result came from Wali Dad's gifts?

a) The king and queen met, fell in love, and married in his palace.
b) The merchant became wealthy by keeping some gifts for himself.
c) The fairies cursed the king and queen for their arrogance.
d) Wali Dad was forced to become the new king of Nekabad.

10. Why did Wali Dad ultimately return to his simple life?

LIVEWORKSHEETS

a) The fairies warned him the palace would vanish after a month.

b) He missed cutting grass and found royal duties boring.

c) He valued humility and genuine happiness over wealth.

d) The king and queen demanded their gifts back after marriage.

LIVEWORKSHEETS