

Chapter 1: The Daffodils

Multiple Choice (Select the correct answer):

1. "I wandered lonely as a cloud"
  - (a) The poet is describing how a cloud looks.
  - (b) The poet feels lonely and is comparing himself to a floating cloud.
  - (c) The poet is talking about walking with friends.
  - (d) The poet is observing a cloud from his window.
2. "A host, of golden daffodils"
  - (a) The poet imagines a party with golden decorations.
  - (b) The poet sees a large number of golden daffodils.
  - (c) The poet is referring to golden sunlight.
  - (d) The poet finds one or two daffodils.
3. "Fluttering and dancing in the breeze"
  - (a) The daffodils are being blown away by the wind.
  - (b) The daffodils move gracefully in the wind, as if they are dancing.
  - (c) The poet is dancing with the flowers.
  - (d) The wind is destroying the daffodils.
4. "Continuous as the stars that shine"
  - (a) The daffodils are shining like stars.
  - (b) The poet imagines daffodils in the sky.
  - (c) The daffodils stretch endlessly, just like the stars in the sky.
  - (d) The stars and daffodils are competing with each other.
5. "Ten thousand saw I at a glance"
  - (a) The poet counts exactly 10,000 daffodils.

(b) The poet exaggerates to express the vast number of daffodils he sees.

(c) The poet sees only a few flowers but imagines more.

(d) The poet is imagining a future with many flowers.

6. "The waves beside them danced, but they out-did the sparkling waves in glee"

(a) The waves and daffodils are competing to see which is prettier.

(b) The daffodils appear more cheerful and lively than the waves.

(c) The waves are trying to destroy the flowers.

(d) The poet is ignoring the daffodils and focusing on the waves.

7. "For oft, when on my couch I lie in vacant or in pensive mood"

(a) The poet forgets the daffodils while lying on his couch.

(b) The poet recalls the daffodils when he is thoughtful or feeling empty.

(c) The poet is dreaming of traveling to the countryside.

(d) The poet is planning to visit the flowers again.

8. "And then my heart with pleasure fills, and dances with the daffodils"

(a) The poet becomes happy and imagines himself dancing with the daffodils.

(b) The poet is sad and reflects on the beauty of nature.

(c) The poet forgets about the flowers entirely.

(d) The poet is asking others to dance with him.