Text:

Labour Day is a special holiday in many countries around the world. It is usually celebrated on the 1st of May. On this day, people remember the efforts and achievements of workers. Many years ago, workers had to work for many hours, sometimes more than 12 hours a day, and they did not have many rights. They wanted better conditions, fair pay, and shorter working hours. That's why they started to protest and ask for changes.

Today, many countries celebrate Labour Day to thank workers for their hard work. Most people don't go to work or school on this day. Some people take part in parades or marches. Others stay home and relax with their families. In some places, there are speeches or concerts to celebrate. Labour Day is also a time to think about workers' rights and how we can improve jobs for everyone.
