Exercise 1

Read the text and match the words in bold to their definitions.

Alex's Close Call

Last month, I was driving on the motorway when a driverless car suddenly switched lanes. I had to brake hard to avoid it! The busy traffic behind me honked angrily. Then, a red traffic light appeared, and everyone stopped. I saw an accident ahead—two cars had tried to overtake at the same time. Luckily, no one was injured, but it took hours to clear. Now I always check my mirrors before changing lanes!

Jamie's Parking Disaster

I'll never forget the day I tried to park downtown. The traffic jam was terrible, and I was stuck near a junction for 20 minutes. Finally, I found a spot, but I turned the steering wheel too late and scratched another car! The driver shouted at me, but thankfully, it was just a small dent. Since then, I've practiced parking every weekend. Oh, and I never drive at speed in cities—it's too risky!

Sam's Speed Lesson

My dad loves driving fast, but one rainy night, he learned his lesson. He was going way over the speed limit on a quiet road when a dog ran into the street. He slammed the brake, but the car slid on the wet road and hit a fence! The steering wheel airbag opened, and his arm was slightly injured. Now, he always drives carefully, especially near junctions. And me? I'll stick to buses in busy traffic!
