Hi! My name's Gregor and I run adventure holidays in Slovenia. For me, it's the best job in the world because I spend most of my time outdoors, enjoying the wild countryside. My interest in the outdoors began when I was very young. Then, when I was a teenager, I took part in something called the Eco-Challenge Race in Australia.

It was an amazing experience. The Eco-Challenge race was created by a guy called Mark Burnett in the USA. It took place once a year, usually in a different country each year. There were four people in each team, and the teams came from all over the world.

The race was about 500 kilometres long and the competitors travelled for six to twelve days, sometimes for 24 hours a day. They walked through rainforests. They rode horses across the desert. They went up mountains on mountain bikes. They went down rivers and across lakes.

But it wasn't just an exciting adventure. The natural environment was an important part of the race. We weren't allowed to put our tents on top of plants, and we were careful not to leave any rubbish. Before the race, the competitors always did something to help the local people. For example, in Morocco they cleaned the beaches. In Fiji, they collected books for local schools.

Now I want to offer young people similar experiences. So that's what I do. And I get paid for it! My trips aren't as hard as the Eco-Challenge Race, but we learn a lot about nature, and we always have an exciting time. So, if you want a real adventure, get in touch. I'd love to hear from you.
