

A PAST EVENT

Listen carefully to the recording. As you listen, fill in each blank in the text with one missing word you hear. Focus on the correct verb forms and grammar

The Lost Phone

Last weekend, I to the mall with my cousin. We there in the afternoon and a great parking spot right near the entrance. Everything seemed perfect at first.

We lunch at our favorite restaurant and about our plans for the summer. After that, we went to shop in different stores.

I a few clothes and at the counter.

But when I reached into my pocket to check the time, I that my phone was gone. I back to every place I had visited and even asked people if they had seen it. No one .

Finally, someone it to the customer service desk. I so relieved! It me to be more careful with my things.