A Message from the Future

If I would have known what was waiting in the year 802,701, I'd never stepped into the time machine.

The Eloi live in fear—if they would fight back, the Morlocks might not hunt them so easily.

Had I took the ignition crystal with me, I wouldn't be trapped now.

If the Earth didn't change so drastically, I might recognized more of it.

They act as if nothing ever had happened, but clearly something did.

If humans had not neglected science, we wouldn't facing this bleak outcome.

Sometimes I wish I can reverse time.

If I understood their language, I could have communicate better with the Eloi.

The Time Machine would not been stolen if I had hidden it properly.

If I would stayed home, none of this would happen.
